ALL the information received from Russian sources with regard to the Chinese position in Kashgaria tends to show that the first Chinese successes have by no means ensured them peaceable possession of the country. There appears to be complete anarchy in-Kashgaria, but at the same time a very deto pieces, and destruction menaces the rest very indifferently armed and drilled : each junior. soldier is armed with either a gun or pike, in the proportion of two pikes to three guns, and the officers carry American rifles. Knowing the amount of care Chinese troops take of their arms it is only reasonable to suppose that these guas are in a wretchedly unserviceable condition. The Russians are not likely to help there by supplying arms, and are extremely lik ly to render such assistance to the Kashg lans, and possibly aid the latter in other ways to drive the Chinese back into the Desert of Gobi. It seems to us that the Government of Peking has committed a grave error in policy in pushing her claim to the Kaidja and demanding the renutio of the Ameer Ben she has fully re-established her away over of the brigged age practised alight the frontier. in which they allege the Chinese soldiers has been injured thereby. It is evident that Russia is gradually accumulating material for a beavy claim upon China, which will be produced when Chung How makes his demands at St. Petersburg. The anarchie condition of Kashgaria and the excesses of the Chinese soldiers will at the same time probably be ad uced as all-sufficing excuses for a Russian oc. upation of Kashgaria a little later on. The Power that intervened to pro tect the "gentle Bulgarians" from the Turi will find still less difficulty in showing the necessity for interfering to save the Moslems of Kashgar from extirpation by the Pagan Chinese. The Chinese have put themselves in a measure out of court by their barbarous and Russia, which power has shown so much of the oppressed. The difficulties between the two countries appear irreconcileable unless one or other Government is prepared to make great concessions. The Russians will not retrocede the Kuldja nor will they surronder the Ameer. They may, havever, instead thereof make new demands on the Chinese Government that will be difficult. to concede, dangerous to refuse. It has been suggested that the British Government should prop an China in this emergency and support her as a barrier against Russian aggression. But unfortunately the Chinese would be scarcely prudent to do so, even if it Cabul engrosses the attention of the Indian Government. Matters in Central Asia are so

"They are not brave! They are not brave

These barbarian thieves These barbarian thieves!!" How would a" barbarian thief" act in the present case, the facts of which have been related by an ove-witness, a foreign resident. Chinese householder in the Foreign Settlement, anxious to be relieved of the presence of a couple of dogs seized the poor brutes, carried them to the top of a hill in front of a foreign goutleman's residence, dun a hole in the ground, placed the dogs therein-leaving only their heads exposed-and, aided by an admiring crowd, commonced to stone the wretched animals to death. The scene leated for over an hour, and was witnessed by a foreign lady who, of course, was powerless to interfere, though deeply moved by the poor brutes' piteous ories and droudful sufferings. There was not, we are assured, the slightest disposition on the part of the native spectators—many of whom were well-dressed and apparently respectable persons—to interfere nor were any remonstrances uttered. We are glad to learn that in conseouence of representations from the United States Consul, the infamous and cowordly perpetrator of this wanton act of cruelty has been sentenced to 100 blows with a bamboo. The bamboo has never been devoted to a better purpose; and we hope that the misercant will not be stinted.
